Weather Extremes Greet Arrival Of Winter In Nation

High And Sub-Zero Temperatures, Sunshine, Snow, Freezing Rain, Reported

SOME SECTORS ARE ISOLATED

(By International News Service)

Winter covered the nation today with crazy-quiet weather that included high and sub-zero temperatures, sunshine and snow, and freezing rain and heavy sleet that isolated several score midwest communities.

Quincy, Ill., a city of 40,000 population, and 50-odd nearby villages and hamlets in Illinois and Missouri were shut-out by ice that knocked out power and communication lines. Quincy's only contact with the outside world was through an amateur radio station.

Coal Appeal Is Made

The American Retail Coal Association, meanwhile, made a fifth appeal to President Truman to intervene in the United Mine Workers' three-day work week schedule and warned that fuel supplies were falling rapidly through the nation.

Forecasters at the Chicago weather bureau said a nation-wide Christmas forecast will not be available until Friday or Saturday. Weatherman said "rather cold weather" covered the western and central parts of the U. S. with mild temperatures spreading eastward from the lower Mississippi and Ohio river valleys.

Freezing rain fell on the first day of winter in parts of Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. As much as five inches of snow was reported in Kansas and Missouri. Other states where winter came in with a snow flurry included New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Far Below Zero

The nation's "ice box" Wednesday was International Falls, Minn., where the temperature plummeted to a century-wide low of 22 degrees below zero. Corpus Christi, Tex., was the warmest spot in the U. S. with 83 degrees.

Motorists were cautioned against hazardous driving conditions in the wake of heavy rains which threatened to freeze.

Snoude pits were lighted in southern California's citrus country where temperatures fell as low as 21 degrees Wednesday.

Bad weather over the Tulsa, Okla., area southward toward Dallas hampered a search for a missing private plane which disappeared Monday with three men aboard.

Special blizzard warnings were

PA NEWS OBSERVES

Although city offices are rapidly being moved from the old to the new city building, and the offices and halls will be quiet Christmas day, there will remain one place in the old structure in which the spirit of Christmas will be displayed. The place is the police department, a Christmas tree having been erected yesterday by Police Sergeant Smith, Police Chief's Secretary Caroline Black, and Cruiser Policeman George Sigler.

There was little about the weather conditions at noon today to give any idea of Christmas. Thermometers, downtown registers over 65 degrees, and in numerous places of business the front doors were kept open, as in summertime.

Auto touring of the city to inspect the numerous exterior decorative schemes in the residential sections for the holiday season is now in progress. Some streets have many auto sight-seers during the course of the evening.

Yule Cards Are Used In Appeal To Congress

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Members of Congress said today that they are being bombarded with Christmas cards appealing for government economy and tax relief.

Congressmen and senators from many parts of the country have been receiving the gayly-colored cards, all exactly the same.

The cards are indicative of a concerted drive, apparently by small businessmen, but there is nothing to show who is in back of it. The red, white and green cards read:

"A very Merry Christmas to you."

my congressman, and you can make it A Happy New Year for me if you'll help put these packages under my 1950 Christmas tree . . .

Three packages under a tree are labeled "government economy, tax the untaxed, excise tax relief."

A spot check revealed that while all members have not been receiving them, they have come from such far-flung places as Texas, North Dakota, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Illinois, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Florida.

The office of Sen. Pepper (D) Fla., revealed that 100 to 150 of the cards have been received, but not (Continued on Page Two)

Eagles Auxiliary Has Enjoyable Holiday Party

Christmas Party Big Success; Plans Made To Initiate Largest Class

Following a short business meeting with president Elsie Pugh presiding, the ladies auxiliary of the Eagles No. 455 held their annual Christmas party.

Mrs. Dorothy Heckart, chairlady for December, planned a very successful evening's entertainment. More than 165 members were in attendance and the evenings festivities were held in the beautiful new ballroom, which was decorated with poinsettias and a huge Christmas tree with hundreds of colored lights glowing brightly and adding to the holiday spirit.

The Melody Sextet sang seven Christmas songs which were greatly enjoyed by the assembly, accompanied by Isabel Johnson.

To the tune of "Here Comes Santa Claus", Mrs. Christine Lombardo, dressed in a Santa Claus outfit, entered with a large box of favors. Hidden in each favor was a number, six of which called for six very lovely door prizes.

Mrs. Elsie Pugh greeted those present and then presented Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, secretary and press reporter, with a beautiful gift from the auxiliary and gave a personal gift of each of her officers and chairladies.

Special gifts were presented to the honorary mother of 1949, Mrs. Margaret Krueger, and Mrs. Ray Fredericks from the auxiliary.

Mrs. Heckart and her aides, the Mesdames Kathryn Williams, Dora Williams, Adeline Navarra, Helen Reno, Mary Cooper, Lottie Jacobs, Orpha McConnell, Pearl White, Elsie Pugh, Clara Grimes, Sue Ross, Melita Pilch, Katherine Ross and Cecelia Jackson served a delicious lunch with the season's colors used for added attraction.

An exchange of the season's greetings ended a very successful and enjoyable party.

Captain Navarra announces a practice for January in preparation for the initiation of the largest class in the history of the auxiliary. This will be in conjunction with the formal dedication of the new Eagles home.

MERGER URGED IN SCHOOL PLAN AT NEW WILMINGTON

Wilmington townships in Lawrence county, and Wilmington and Lackawanna townships in Mercer county, in the operation of a high school which would serve the area.

He suggested that a meeting be called for January 24, when representatives from these districts could be present, at which time, he would return and talk with them further on the matter.

As explained by Mr. Bowman, it is the policy of the Department of Public Instruction to consolidate districts, which would not only reduce the burden of the cost of construction, but also the maintenance of such consolidated high schools, and also to give smaller districts an opportunity to secure a better type of schooling at a cost which would be more within their means. State assistance would be furnished in this case.

Before anything further be done, Mr. Bowman felt that the districts mentioned above should have an opportunity to join with New Wilmington in this project. This, it is understood, is agreeable to the New Wilmington board.

Representatives of the districts affected will be asked to attend the meeting proposed for January 24, at which time Mr. Bowman will be present to explain to them in further detail the suggestions of the state.

WPIAL CHAMPS TO BE HONORED

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and others will have speaking parts. Public Acclaim

It will be a night in which the fans can acclaim the 1949 champs to their hearts content, and to which they so rightfully deserve. Tickets are selling for $2.00 and can be obtained from all fraternal organizations, the Joinson Bronze, United Engineering, and Shenango Pottery, or from Gus' Men's store, Morella Dairy, or Alderman B. J. Biondi. A dance will follow the banquet program.

This is the first time in the history of New Castle High athletics that a public banquet has been arranged. It is hoped that a large number will turn out. Places for 1,000 can be provided. All reservations must be in by December 26.

McKeesport turned out 1,500 strong to honor their team recently, and they didn't win the title. New Castle can match that, it would seem.

William Sands is the general chairman of the banquet and there are 15 clubs and organizations backing the project.

Dewey To Confer In New York City

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey will confer today with acting New York City Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri on the water crisis which finds only a 62-day water supply in the city's reservoirs.

Dewey, in calling the meeting, said he was alarmed that "the government of the city has delayed so long in taking steps to meet the emergency."

This brought a quick denial of delay from Chief Engineer Edward J. Clark of the Department of Water Supply, Gas & Electricity, speaking for Commissioner Carney, who is ill.

"Our reservoirs were full and spilling over in May, 1949, as recently as August 1, the reservoirs were 91.5 per cent of capacity, holding 231,607,000,000 gallons," Clark said.

Croton Bible School Program On Friday

Entertainment and treat for the Bible school will be given in Croton, Methodist church Friday evening, December 23, at 7:30 o'clock. Children of various departments will offer a program of recitations and songs. The children will be given a treat by Santa Claus.

Mrs. Russell L. Gormley, Mrs. William Emerick, Mrs. Howard McQuiston and Mrs. Arthur Douth are responsible for arrangements.

ers. The other authorizes the employer to pay over to Mr. McClung the tax due the township school boards.

Workers residing in the townships and working in New Castle are asked to fill out these forms immediately and send them in, return envelopes being enclosed. This should be done before the first of the year in order that the tax collector and the employers may have full authorization to continue collecting the tax.

Failure to return the forms will mean that the city will continue to collect the one per cent and the individual will then have to make arrangements to pick up the refund himself.

The agreement provides that Mr. McClung will collect the tax and make checks for the refund to the school districts. Each school tax collector will pick up all the checks for workers in his district who have authorized the procedure.

The township school tax collectors are: Neshannock, Mrs. Mildred Henderson; Shenango, George Lawrence; Hickory, Don I. Neal, and Union, Kenneth Forrest.

The mayor appeared highly incensed because of the strike, which forced hundreds of thousands of workers to take taxi cabs or find other means of transportation to reach their place of employment.

Termed Violation

The strike was termed by Burke a "complete violation" of a promise made by Meany, Lang and Robert Stack of Detroit, the transit union's international representative, to hold up a walkout until they conferred with him again.

It was reported that the transit system's administrative officials are considering holding up CTS employees' next pay, which is Dec. 27, pending determination of what specific provisions of the Ferguson Act can be invoked against the strikers.

The act bans strikes by public employees.

Fifty Firemen In Philadelphia Are Affected By Fumes

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Some 50 firemen were made ill by smoke and acrid fumes today while they were fighting a blaze at the Frankford arsenal.

A delegation was admitted into the embassy after a Buddhist priest led the demonstrators in memorial prayers for the souls of the Japanese who died in Soviet prison camps. The delegation was told to return next Wednesday.

Pressing for a showdown with Russia on the whole issue, Gen. MacArthur threw his full weight behind the charge made by his diplomatic deputy, William J. Sebald, that perhaps only two or three thousand Japanese prisoners still "remain alive" in Soviet "slave" camps.

The occupation chief furthermore lashed out in biting terms at the "walkout" staged yesterday by Russian Delegate Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko from a meeting of the Allied Council for Japan, rather than listen to Sebald's statement.

MAXINE SLAVONSKY BIRTHDAY HONOREE

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Slavonsky, South Mercer street, entertained the Rebecca girls and the Macca-bee boys at a party and dance at Tifereth Israel Synagogue recently.

The event honored the 12th birthday anniversary of the couple's daughter, Maxine Paula. The table was attractively arranged with 12 white tapers in crystal holders running the full length of the table. Lovely favors were at each place setting.

A short program consisting of ukulele numbers and songs by Sammy Kulkin; a tap dance by the honor guest, Maxine Paula; and violin numbers by Angelo Filigenzi, a special guest, was enjoyed. Stanton Seigel of Beaver Falls was a special guest from out of town. The hostess presented each guest with a gift.

Mrs. Louis Kulkin and the Rebecca girls aided the hostess in serving. Games interested the young guests and later Maxine was presented with a number of attractive gifts.

Dancing to victrola music by the young people climaxed a delightful evening. Door prizes were awarded to Lloyd Skole and Diane Caplan.

Another fete honoring Maxine Paula was held at the Slavonsky residence. Thirty-five girl friends of the honoree composed the guest list. Mrs. Vincent Prioletti, Mrs. Israel Solomon and Mrs. Harry Schlossberg aided the hostess in serving.

Stitzinger who was responsible for the program spoke on the topics, "You Cannot Keep Christmas A Secret" and "What Christmas Means in Other Lands and the Gifts They Receive," while Mrs. Stitzinger spoke, she placed corn meal, onions and tooth paste, gifts in other hands, on a Christmas tree in front of the church. Mrs. J. F. Rentz closed with prayer.

Refreshments were served by the group of officers in the dining hall, where Mrs. Rhodes poured at a table, colorful with seasonal novelties.

U. N. TAKES SLAP AT SOVIETS

According to a recent newspaper headline the "U. N. Adopts Peace Plan of West and Snubs Reds." While it has not yet developed whether a slap by the United Nations can be anything more than a tap on the wrist it is encouraging to note this latest action of the international Assembly. By a vote of 53 to 5 with Russia protesting loudly the Assembly called on all member nations to refrain from "fomenting civil strife." In the past Russian Communism has used the U. N. principally as a sounding board for its propaganda. In this latest action the U. N. members indicate that they can do a little propagandizing themselves.

The Russians have made a great to-do about international peace and have asserted that the United States and the other Western powers are seeking to promote war while the Reds themselves are "Doves of Peace." Of course this is absurd. What the Western nations are seeking to do is simply to build barriers against an attack by barbaric Communism. It may be true that the Reds do not want a general war now, but only for the simple reason that they know they couldn't win any such war at this stage. Furthermore, they hope to liquidate the modern nations without recourse to international war.

But internal uprisings and civil conflicts are something else again and are the principal weapon of the Soviets. What they can't do by international war they expect to do by revolution. And up to this time they have been pretty successful. It is not to be forgotten, speaking of war, that a majority of the bloodiest conflicts in the world's history have been internal wars.

The present danger spot is Yugoslavia whose dictator, Tito, has defied Stalin, purely for nationalist and not for idealistic reasons. It is now apparent that Stalin will do his best to liquidate Tito and his government by starting internal conflict. By their recent resolution the U. N. delegates indicate that they are on to this move and they have called on Russia to refrain from fomenting civil strife. Of course, Russia will not so refrain, but it's just as well, for the purpose of the record at least, to call the attention of the world to this danger spot in Southern Europe and to put the civilized nations on record as opposing it.

FIFTH CHRISTMAS SINCE WAR

This is the fifth successive peacetime Christmas. Franklin D. Roosevelt, broadcasting from the White House lawn on Christmas Eve, 1944, said the world must never again have a war-time Christmas season. Today many Americans are sadly doubtful whether that 1944 Christmas was indeed the "last" war-time Christmas, or only the "last previous" one.

G. I. Joes all over the world had plenty of war five years ago. They were retreating under heavy fire in Belgium, where the Nazis had launched, eight days before, a surprise counter-attack, the "Battle of the Bulge."

American air forces heavily bombarded Japanese positions on Iwo Jima on Christmas Day, 1944. There was heavy fighting in the Philippines, where the American counter-invasion had begun nine weeks before. The dreary military stalemate continued in Italy. Some 15,000 American soldiers were in St. Peter's when the Pope celebrated mass at midnight.

At home, the allocation of tires for passenger cars and trucks was reduced. Some hitherto unrationed foods were made subject to rationing. Horse racing was banned after the following Jan. 3. In Arizona 25 German prisoners of war celebrated Christmas Day by escaping from jail; in Washington, Selective Service had announced that draft calls would be stepped up after the first of the year.

WEEVIL WAS NOTHING

A great many of the nation's cotton growers do not cotton to the way the Department of Agriculture is reducing the acreage to be planted next year. From the looks of some of the individual cases that have been referred to the House Agriculture committee the growers have good reason to kick.

According to the letter of the farm law passed this year, America's cotton acreage was to be cut 23 per cent to reduce some of the staggering surplus and the amount of Commodity Credit Corporation payments to cotton farmers.

But there was some foggy wording in the bill that has just been clarified. As a result, thousands of planters find that they must cut their acreage 50 per cent and more to qualify for government support.

If it were an even "across-the-board" cut, things wouldn't be too bad, but the actual cuts vary from county to county. Farmer Smith on one side of the line may be allowed to plant 80 per cent of his 1949 acreage in cotton in 1950. On the other side of the county line, Farmer Jones will be allowed to plant only 15 per cent. Individual percentages are controlled by county percentages, a new twist.

The original intent of the bill was to protect the "little" cotton farmer. Somewhere along the line the wires got crossed and a situation as tangled as a new batch of cotton lint resulted.

For the next few months, at least, the House committee will be praying for more cotton—to stuff in its ears. Farmers are reflecting that the boll weevil at its worst brought fewer headaches than this.

Government handouts are like praise. The recipient always feels that he wants more.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Premier Stalin of Russia is 70 years old. But this month is also the 15th anniversary of another historic event—the beginning of the great purge whereby Stalin solidified his power.

That purge still is continuing, but now has spread far outside the borders of Russia proper. The graves of its thousands of victims are scattered from the Elbe river in Germany to the Siberian steppe.

A bullet in the back cut down Sergei Kirov, Stalin's heir apparent, in a hallway of Leningrad's Smolny Institute December 1, 1934. His alleged assassin was executed along with 116 others accused of conspiracy to overthrow Stalin.

But a story has persisted that the name "Stalin" was imprinted faintly on a published photograph of Kirov lying in state a few days later. The paper publishing the photograph was the government organ, Izvestia.

Izvestia's chief editor, Nikolai Bukharin, was executed as another confessed traitor more than three years ago.

Many Victims
It was a long list, that of the victims who perished in the so-called "model trials" of the 1930's. Historians have estimated that thousands were executed and tens of thousands banished to Siberia.

No precise figure ever will be known until their archives to public inspection. And of course that is extremely unlikely.

Security agents reached into countless apartments. There was the dreaded knock on the door, the shrill screams of wives being separated from husband and children. Foreign correspondents who lived in Moscow during those days of terror heard the screams.

The great inner struggle between Stalinists and Trotskyites rolled on and on. H. G. Yagoda, head of the Secret Service, was put to death. His accuser, and successor, Nikolai Yezhov, later on himself vanished, presumably also buried in a potter's field.

Shoot After Trial
Marshal M. N. Tukachevsky, one of the most gifted leaders of the Red Army in the civil war, and seven generals of the Red Army were shot after an alleged secret trial in June, 1937.

They were accused of plotting against Stalin in behalf of Germany. After they were removed, Stalin himself made his famous pact with Adolf Hitler on the eve of World War II.

The courageous Russian Army's struggle once Hitler attacked Russia, and the Red Army's triumph, greatly increased the power and prestige of Stalin.

The purges have not ended, and the latest victim of the Communist family quarrel is Traicho Kostov, former Bulgarian deputy premier. He was executed last Saturday.

Now the Trotskyite label of old has been replaced by "Titoist," or made synonymous with it in the Russian denunciations of those who oppose Stalinism.

Perished Recently
Another alleged "Titoist," or

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

UNSELFISHNESS AT CHRISTMAS

Has anybody ever lived on this earth who so perfectly symbolized unselfishness as did Jesus?

Every parent wishes his child to grow less selfish and more unselfish. Yet, around Christmas time, which celebrates the birth of Christ, there are many practices which seem to encourage selfishness rather than unselfishness in our children. I'm very sure many children gain more moral harm than moral good from Christmas.

Early Infancy
From the child's early infancy till he is nearly grown he is on the receiving end of the line at Christmas. Whether his gifts are marked "from Santa Claus" or from his parents, he receives often but rarely gives. It may be many years before he presents his first gift to anybody. Even at eight, ten or fifteen the average child still thinks of Christmas as a time when he will receive a number of gifts, but with little thought about presenting gifts to others. As it's more blessed to give than to receive, many parents must gain far more blessedness at Christmas time than their children do.

In earlier articles I have urged parents not to lavish gifts too heavily on the child at any time and to seek ways to set the stage so the child as early as possible will present gifts to his parents and other loved ones; also bear gifts to some persons from whom he does not expect to receive gifts. I have applauded the practice of many teachers in the early grades, of stimulating children at school to make gifts for their parents, and have urged teachers of all grade levels to prevail upon children to go without certain luxuries in order to buy gifts for other persons from their savings and allowances. (My bulletin, "Allowances" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.) I have entreated the mother to motivate the child to remember the father with a gift at Christmas, and the father so to motivate the child to bear a Christmas gift to the mother.

Less Selfish Time
I am sure all parents and teachers in secular and church schools and youths need to do far better than most of them have done to make Christmas a less selfish time for children. I wonder why I have never heard a sermon on this subject.

We parents should be sure that the child old enough to write will promptly write a "thank you" note to each person who gave him a Christmas gift. While our chief motive in having him do so might be cultural propriety our first concern should be for the child's own moral character.

We have tried man power, horse power, electric power and now atomic power . . . when will we learn how to use God's power? We as people, as a nation, as a world will accomplish nothing until we again accept God's power. Did not the prophet Zechariah say . . . "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts" . . . Let us ever proclaim this thought of truth to all people.

Just Folks

THE INN AND THE STABLE

There they went to Bethlehem. The day was but few paid heed to them.

Joseph and Mary came to sign The tax roll as of David's line.

Two plain and simple folk were they, Scarce noted as they trudged their way.

Two weary travelers, coming late, The inn could not accommodate.

How little of this life we know! Such people daily come and go, And with indifference turned aside And room within the inn denied.

Who filled the inn, forgotten lie. None can today their names

Yet stable, Joseph and the star And Mary's son remembered are. (Copyright, 1949, Edgar A. Guest)

Daphne du Maurier's father was a famous novelist, and she followed in his footsteps. She was born in London, England, May 13, 1907, and was educated privately. Her first novel was "The Loving Spirit," published in 1931. Her second was titled, "I'll Never Be Young Again." "The Progress of Gerald," a history of the family, "Jamaica Inn" followed, but she hit the best seller lists with her "Rebecca" in 1938. Since then she has had published, "Frenchman's Creek," "Hungry Hill," "The Years Between" and "The King's General."

Winslow Homer was born in Boston, Mass., Feb. 24, 1836. When he was 19 he was apprenticed to a lithographer, but during the Civil War he accompanied the troops to the front and contributed sketches to a magazine. The war also furnished him with subjects for his first two pictures he exhibited, "Home, Sweet Home" and "Prisoners from the Front." His genius is perhaps best shown in his water-colors of marine scenes, "Inside the Bar," "The Voice of the Cliffs" and "Wrecking of a Vessel." He died in 1910.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Preparing For 1950 Political Battle

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The way in which Democrats and Republicans will square off in the political ring in 1950 is becoming fairly clear. The Democrats seem to have determined the nature of the sparring in the first round.

They have done this by a move that, whatever its inherent virtue, is extremely shrewd strategy. Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas had said that one of the first measures to be pushed will be the most touchy of all the civil rights proposals—a fair employment practices law.

At the first glance this would seem to be a foolish beginning. For it will certainly touch off a southern rebellion, complete with filibuster, that is bound to get in the way of the administration program. But from the Democratic point of view it does some other things.

Puts Some On Spot
It puts the Republicans in the senate on the spot. Are they for civil rights or are they not? What's more, this takes place against the background of Honest John Bricker's appeal for a union between the Republicans and the southern Democrats.

The latter circumstance has a lot of Republicans worried. Their fondest wish for the new year is that Senator Bricker and his pronouncement could be consigned to the outer reaches of oblivion.

Another complication is the fact, very much in the minds of Negroes, that the third ward in Newark hasn't gone Republican since 1928. Driscoll carried every district in that ward. While Driscoll lost the county dominated by rigidly-bossed Atlantic City, Negro leaders asserted their independence and he won in most districts in which the Negro population is in the majority.

The governor sponsored and worked for the strong civil rights provisions in New Jersey's constitution. Fair employment practice provisions have been enforced more earnestly than in most states having such laws. Those who have studied the returns believe this is the explanation for the Negro vote. While President Truman in November of 1948 failed by a fairly small margin to carry the state, he got majorities of two to one or more in Negro districts.

Should Look At Another Phase
The Republicans who met out in Chicago last week and decided that the GOP must turn to the right (where have they been all this time?) should look at another and related phase of New Jersey's election. Old guard Republicanism, of the variety that seems to have run the Chicago show, would have been happy to see Driscoll done in. There is even a horrid suspicion that the Old Guard in New Jersey didn't do all it might have done in Driscoll's behalf.

That was because the New Jersey governor decided he would not be handicapped by Old Guardism. He personally intervened to prevent former Senator Albert W. Hawkes from running for a second term in 1948. Hawkes is the beau ideal of the Old Guard; the apostle of enterprise, a free trader, even Adam Smith, if he were alive, might think the theory of the free enterprise market was being pushed around a little hard.

Those who want to know what to do about the Republican party in its decrepitude could do worse than have a talk with Governor Driscoll. At 48 he is a practical and a successful politician who seems to know that, like it or not, this is the middle of the 20th century and not the end of the 19th.

Scriptural-sounding injunctions to turn to the right may please the party's big money contributors, and the GOP still has an empty ring these days. But as a guide for action it is a little risky. A bit more to the right and the party may find itself right off the map.

New Christmas Dinner Idea

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

Those who are unlucky enough to have Christmas dinner with us this year are going to leave the table giving off "oh's and ah's" but also very hungry.

The "oh's" and "ah's" will be their reaction to the beauty of our table which, even if I do say so myself, is going to be breath-taking. For the past month we have been cutting from magazines all the pictures showing how to make a Christmas table beautiful, and all the tips on how to make the festive board a runner-up to Niagara Falls, Victor Mature by moonlight, and twilight in the redwoods.

There is only one great drawback to following the suggestion that the decoration editors of magazines hand out so freely, namely, no room is left for any food. One sardine sandwich might possibly be jammed on the table, but to make space for it place cards and artificial snow and Santa Clauses of spun sugar and poney pine cones would have to be removed or put out of killer.

Try To Anchor Zeppelin
As for putting a turkey on the table, one might just as well try to anchor a Zeppelin in a broom closet. This is especially true with the decorative motif we are using. To begin with, the centerpiece is a cardboard sleigh that runs almost the length of the table.

Spreading out from the sleigh, like tentacles from an octopus, are red and green ribbons which are fastened near each plate by a reindeer. Then running out from the reindeer all better-skelter, are more ribbons with assorted things like mistletoe, stars, bells, and icicles hanging from them.

Beneath this canopy of ribbons is a veritable forest of stunted little home-made trees, crepe paper bows, ginger bread miniatures of Santa Claus's celebrated team of reindeer, and almost everything else we can lay our hands on.

The whole idea is just plain cute, don't you think?

And thrifty, too.

Because how in the world can we hope to get a turkey and all the fixings on the table with all that junk scattered about.

We figure our whole Christmas dinner won't cost more than two dollars. The piece de resistance will be ham sandwiches, which our guests will have to eat off a tray in the living room before they gather around the beautiful, but foodless table.

No Leftovers Either, Or Dishes

There'll be no left overs, either or a raft of dishes to wash and dry and put away. Ham sandwiches, pickles cut in the shape of little Santa Clauses, a glass of milk for those who are really hungry, and Christmas dinner will be done with.

Of course, guests will be allowed to bring their cameras and appease their hunger by taking pictures of the table. And those who want to keep body and soul together until they get to their own homes by eating the undeveloped film will have a perfect right to do so.

The old idea that a dining room table should serve as a support for food is fast dying out, if the magazines are right.

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

John F. Henderson now has the right to precede his name with "Attorney". He was admitted to practice Wednesday morning by Judge W. Walter Braham and becomes the "baby" of the bar.

Attorney Henderson is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Henderson of Lincoln avenue. He is a graduate of Grove City college, class of 1942, and of the University of Pennsylvania law school in the class of 1949.

He passed the state board examination successfully and has completed the necessary six months clerkship in the law office of Attorney Robert L. Wallace.

As he was sworn in he followed the ancient custom of handing the court crier, in this case Clifford M. Vance, a silver dollar.

SIGN OVER REFUND

A petition is being circulated among the employees of the county in which they agree to turn over any cash refund they have from the present retirement fund to apply on the proposed new retirement fund which is a state supervised affair.

Plans for the new fund are under way and in a short time Attorney Huggins of Harrisburg will come in to ascertain the initial cost of the retirement fund.

Under the plan proposed the employees would contribute a percentage of their earnings, based upon age. It runs from 3.64 per cent to 8.64 per cent and averages about 5 1/2 per cent.

The new plan would include every appointed employee, and makes it optional if elected employees want to join. Under the terms of the fund an employee would have to be 60 to retire, barring involuntary severance from the pay roll by either defeat at the polls, discharge or disability.

In the case of involuntary severance, an employee would have had to serve ten years in order to be eligible. Disability retirement may be taken after five years.

Thirteen Projects Under Scrutiny By Joint Commission

Smoke Control, Mental Health Laws And State Relief Top List

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Smoke control, mental health laws and state relief topped a list of 13 projects under scrutiny by the Joint State Government Commission.

Rep. Baker Royer (R) Lancaster, chairman of the legislature's Interim Study Agency, said eight of the 13 committees have organized while others are slated to be held in early January.

Committees which have set investigations are committees on smoke control, public assistance, retirement costs, forests and reforestation, fishways, child placement and adoption, decedents' estates laws and the Allegheny county court.

Committees which will be created at the turn of the year are partial unemployment compensation, public school attendance areas, mental health laws, landlord-tenant laws, and space requirements of state government.

The JSGC will hand findings with recommendations for solving problems, to the General Assembly in 1951.

Relief Program

Most controversial subject for study is administration of the Commonwealth's $25,000,000 relief program. The legislature ordered the study in view of the sharp rise in the state's relief load since January 1947, when approximately 221,000 persons were dependent on state aid.

Latest department of public assistance records listed 440,000 indigents in mid-December.

Methods of wiping out industrial smokes and smogs from industrialized areas will be studied by a committee which is scheduled to study the problems operating in several Pennsylvania cities and in California.

BOOSTS STEEL PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Bethlehem Steel corporation, the nation's second largest steel producer, increased its prices an average of four dollars a ton.

The move which followed the price increase pattern adopted by U. S. Steel corporation last week, thus makes the fourth round of post-war rises in steel virtually industry-wide.

St. Joseph's Group Officers Installed

Christmas Party Held In Meeting Rooms After The Installation In Church

St. Joseph's Sodality held their installation of officers in the church with Rev. Fr. Edwin Hopel officiating.

Officers installed were: Prefect, Mary Heibley; vice-prefect, Mary Pagley; secretary, Eleanor Klaber; treasurer, Betty Heibley; Eucharistic chairman, Joanne Steiner; social chairman, Caroline Aiello; Catholic Truth, Mary Agnes Frey; publicity, Shirley O'Shain; Our Lady's Delectables, Apostolic, Marlene Valensi.

After the installation, the Sodality gathered in the church hall for their Christmas party. Santa Claus distributed gifts, and afterwards, dainty refreshments were served. Dancing was the pastime of the evening.

The committee included: Marcella Klaber, Margaret Clingan, Caroline Aiello and Dorothy Zarilla.

Bethany Lutherans Plan For Programs

Christmas will be observed by the members of Bethany Lutheran congregation with several appropriate services in the church. "He Came in Power" will be the theme of the program for a candlelight service Saturday evening, December 24, at 11:15 o'clock. Pupils of the church school will present their program Sunday evening, December 25, at 7:30 o'clock. Proceeds of the service will be given to the orphanage at Zelenople.

Hadassah Chapter Will Fete Kiddies

Margaret Henry Home Children To Be Guests At Puppet Show On Dec. 28

New Castle Chapter of Hadassah will hold a children's party on Wednesday, December 28, at Temple Israel, Highland and Moody, for the benefit of the Child Welfare program.

A local girl, Jean McKissock, of Park avenue, will present a double feature puppet show — "School house," and "Hansel and Gretel." Refreshments will be served and the children of the Margaret Henry Home will be guests this year.

This performance is for the benefit of the children's vocational training, Child Welfare health station, and to supply hot lunches for schools. Since many of the children have been forced out without education of any kind, they must work as shoe shine boys, etc. Child welfare takes care of night school training to educate them vocationally and also to give academic training which they have missed.

Because of the dietary deficiency of the children who are immigrating into Israel, the school lunch program is of vital importance, to bring them back to health.

Mrs. Myron Milbourn is acting chairman in the absence of Mrs. Joseph Brown.

Mrs. Leonard Smith will furnish the music for the show. Refreshments are being provided by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Pierson Caplan.

The Mystery of Edwin Drood, by Charles Dickens ends in the middle of a chapter. The author died of a stroke, June 8, 1870, before he could complete the novel.

Careful Driving Plea Is Issued

State Officials Urge Safety In Traffic Driving During Holiday Season

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—State officials today issued a plea for careful driving to avert a deadly holiday season.

Twenty-eight Pennsylvanians met death on the state's streets and highways during the three-day Christmas holiday last year.

December each year, with its Christmas and New Year holidays, is the most dangerous month for motorists, according to highway safety records.

Sudden changes in temperature, unexpected fog and storms, or carelessness from hurrying "may cause a break in the traditional family circle at Christmas time," reported State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm.

The Christmas-New Year holiday season is the most dangerous single period of the year," according to the National Safety Council.

It listed three facts: (1) 42 percent more pedestrians die during the latter part of December than in average months; (2) the mileage death rate goes up 24 to 53 percent in winter compared with summer; and (3) deaths from traffic mishaps are two or three times the annual daily average.

Employees of the state highway department will enjoy a three and a half day vacation for the Christmas holiday period starting Friday at noon. The offices will reopen Tuesday morning at their usual time. Maintenance crews will keep eyes peeled on local roads for any emergency that may arise.

The December meeting of the Friendship circle was held Friday evening at the home of Irene Patterson. Ruth Smith was leader of the devotional meeting and the president, Eleanor Patterson, was in charge of the business meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother.

The annual Christmas party of the East Brook U. P. Bible school will be held at the church on Friday, December 23, at 8 o'clock.

Campaign Against Unlawful Practices Being Stepped Up

Special Deputy Says He May Seek Injunctions Rather Than Criminal Prosecutions

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22. — (INS)—The state has stepped up its campaign to prevent persons in licensed profession and businesses from operating outside the law.

Abraham J. Levy, special deputy Attorney General, said he may seek injunctions rather than criminal prosecution to prevent illegal practices.

The injunctions may be issued against several persons now under investigation, he indicated, including a real estate broker, a manufacturer of dental plates, and one or more chiropractors.

"It's more practical to ask for an injunction than to make an arrest," Levy said. "It will give us better results in the long run."

Levy utilized the criminal prosecution method to stop the medical diploma mill allegedly operated by Daniel J. McDermott, 63, head of the Pennsylvania School of Practical Nursing in Philadelphia.

McDermott was arrested and charged with cheating by fraudulent pretense, forgery and uttering forged instruments.

"It is safer to go after these people through the injunction method," Levy said. "The use of injunctions will obviate the necessity of many, many arrests."

EXCUSE NO GOOD

The prologue of the cantata sets forth the mystery of the Incarnation while the first part depicts Christmas and the second portion the Epiphany.

Director of the cantata is Joseph Martin and organist is Mrs. Audley Snyder. Soloists consist of Mrs. Lester Nord, Mrs. Bert Schroeder, Rev. E. Chester Crabb, Charlie Fleming, Wilbur Kurland, Clifford Proctor, Lester Mort, Bert Schroeder and Audley Snyder.

The program is to be presented in the beautifully decorated church auditorium.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

Schweinsberg Says Department Heads Not Yet Discussed

E. Eugene Schweinsberg and Joseph Medure, councilmen-elect, have not discussed the department of city government each desires to head after they are formally inducted into office, January 2.

In fact, Mr. Schweinsberg said to a News reported today, that Mr. Medure and he have met only once since election day.

Relative to the offices being vacated by Councilmen James Gibson and Joseph D. Alexander, Mr. Schweinsberg said that, it is his understanding that, in the past, the man who received the highest election returns is assigned to the department he desires.

Gibson will leave the Streets and Public Improvements department. Alexander will leave the department of parks and property and also leaves open the position of purchasing agent.

Talking of the future, or after he assumes office, Mr. Schweinsberg said he desired to co-operate, and hopes he will receive co-operation.

Completion Of New City Building To Be Delayed Some

It may be some time before the new city hall is entirely "dressed up," according to employees working at the building. At present work is delayed by the failure of some electrical fixtures to arrive. Furniture from old city hall departments is being installed in new offices.

Some of the furniture taken to the new building is in bad condition. It is likely that, to have it appear in harmony with the interior of the new building, it may have to be refinished or replaced.

It is anticipated that by next week all of the offices in the old building will have been moved to their new home. However, it is not known when the police bureau will be moved.

Police will have to transport prisoners in cars over the new limestone-covered area in the rear of the building and Mayor Haven wants this section to be firmly bedded down before travel on it is permitted.

A temporary set-up of WPGT radio station, which is the police broadcasting station, also remains to be arranged.

The droplets of water in a cloud are electrically charged.

New City Hall Phone No. 6270

Telephone switchboard number at the new city building is 6270, and when one calls one of the various offices, in the new structure, all one needs do is to ask for the party, or department desired.

However, people in need of police service, should call No. 8. The Number 8 line runs direct into the police department, and one does not need to call 6270 to receive police service.

There are seven trunk lines in the new city hall, and every department is connected with the switchboard.

Telephone calls for Messrs Gibson and Davis, who now are located in the new structure, were heavy yesterday, the switchboard operator reports. They will become heavier when Councilmen Alexander and Hoyland move into the new building, which will be soon.

Mayor John F. Haven was preparing to have his office moved as soon as possible to the new building.

The police bureau will continue until after Christmas, and probably later, in the old city building.

Doctor Removes Part Of Small Baby's Lung

Operation On Six-Week-Old Baby In Children's Hospital Saves Life

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Physicians at Children's hospital report that a life-saving operation, in which part of the lung was removed, has been successfully performed on a six-week-old baby.

The infant, Margaret Bringle, of Philadelphia, was discharged from the hospital Tuesday.

Margaret was taken to the hospital three weeks ago with a rare condition known as "obstructive emphysema."

Physicians explained that a malformed artery was pressing on Margaret's left bronchial tube and lung, which prevented the air from escaping.

The air-swollen lung, in turn, pressed against the baby's heart. Surgeons tied off the artery, removed a section of the damaged lung and collapsed the remainder of the lung.

The hospital, which withheld the name of the surgeon, said the lung will be able to function normally in a little while.

Declares Britain Will Recognize Red China Soon

LONDON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—A government spokesman said today that Britain will recognize Communist China "probably" by the last day of this year or during the first couple of days in January.

The spokesman emphasized that the exact date has not been set but has been left to the discretion of Foreign Secretary Bevin.

He said that Bevin is consulting with the new governments of Australia and New Zealand, both of which recently ousted their labor governments, but expressed belief that there has been no change in the empire's foreign policy.

The spokesman reiterated that the British government would have preferred concerted recognition of Communist China with the United States but regretted that that was impossible.

He admitted the forthcoming recognition appears to be an unfriendly gesture toward the Chinese Nationalist government who were wartime allies. He said that such a recognition would not imply that Britain morally approves of the Peking government.

Wesley Children's Program On Friday

Rev. Everett F. Spring, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church has announced the annual Christmas program of the church to take place on Friday evening when the children of the Junior session will present their program and cantata under the direction of Mrs. Henry Grizzle and her helpers, Mrs. Forest Farrington and Mrs. Walter Hilyard.

The church choir will sing two selections, "The Birthday of a King" and "Thy God Reigneth." Miss Edith Moore will preside at the piano during the singing of the choir numbers. The kiddies will receive their annual treat following the program.

Optimist Club In Santa Claus Role

This huge stack of toys is only a small part of the quantity of items repaired and sent out by the Optimist club of New Castle for needy and worthy children. The seemingly hopeless job of sorting the toys is being done in the above photograph by (left to right), Carl Anderson, president of the organization; Joseph Fletcher and Dale Clobus.

Members of the New Castle Optimists club, with the help of many other groups and persons, are winding up one of the most successful toy projects that the club has had.

Toys have been gathered, repaired, painted and are being distributed to the needy children of the community. This project was begun many weeks ago by members of the club and is now in the finishing stages for this year.

The City Rescue Mission has been used as the distribution center for the toys, while Sherwin-Williams has been the collection center and has supplied the paint and brushes for the work.

The Salvation Army, Margaret Henry Home, Red Cross, Catholic Welfare society and the City Rescue Mission are distributing the toys to the public for the club.

Repaired Toys

Among the persons and groups helping with the repairs were Joe Yachabach and family and neighborhood boys, Boy Scout troop No. 50, under the direction of Rocco Viggiano, Mrs. L. P. Gardner of the Sherwin-Williams store, Dale Clobus, the senior Boy Scouts of troop No. 43, Carl Anderson and Glenn Montgomery and family.

Members of the Junior Red Cross also helped to deliver the toys. It is also announced that teachers and pupils of the Lincoln-Garfield school played an important part in supplying the club with toys.

Through the radio jamboree many toys and other gifts were donated. Another broadcast over WKST has been planned for Friday evening at 10:30 when an electric train will be presented to Robert Montgomery, a crippled boy, whose appeal for a train was answered by the people of the community.

Rev. A. E. Simon is chairman of the toy committee and worked in conjunction with Rev. Marshall of the City Rescue Mission.

Small Girl, In Hospital For Eight Months, Looks Forward To Cheery Christmas

It was the night before Christmas, when all through the house, Not a creature was stirring, Not even a mouse.

The tiny, little girl with the luminous, brown eyes looked up from her book of the well-loved story-poem, "The Night Before Christmas," and smiled.

"You know," she said, "I'm going to walk to the Christmas tree for my toys on Christmas."

And for sweet, four-year old Sharon Lynn Leichtenberger, it will be a remarkable feat this year.

Since the tragic evening, last April 27, 1949, Sharon has been confined in the New Castle hospital—lying flat on her back, slowly but surely recovering from first, second and third degree burns of her entire body.

It happened on a Wednesday evening. Little Sharon climbed upon the table-top stove at home at 302 1/2 South Walnut street. She was trying to get her mother Mrs. Jack Richards' purse. The gas jet flame flickered brightly; and as Sharon reached for the shiny, red purse the flame snipped the hem of her dress. The next few minutes became a nightmare as Sharon's body became enveloped with flames. Her clothes were burned from her body.

She Will Recover

The following three months were critical ones for the plucky girl with flaxen hair, who kept repeating that she "hurt awfully." Her road to convalescence has been a rough and rocky one, but recover she will. She's that determined.

What does Sharon Lynn want for Christmas?

For one who is looking forward to Christmas, Sharon doesn't want much.

"A paint box, maybe," she voiced hopefully, "and a cross and chain to wear around my neck." But most of all she wants to walk to the Christmas tree. Slowly, she will walk and with the help of the nurses.

The tree will be erected in the sun parlor, the room that has been Sharon's home for the past eight months. It will be under this tree that Santa Claus will leave toys for her and for the other kiddies who are confined in the sun parlor.

At the present time, Sharon has finished writing her Christmas cards to her friends. With an effort scrawled, "Sharon Lynn." She hopes they will have a Merry Christmas.

Receives Many Cards

Thus far, the little trooper has received hundreds of cards—from people she knows and many whom she does not know. Although she is still a small girl, she loves to get cards from people. And as for toys, during these past eight months, she has been showered with all kinds not to mention dolls.

In an eager and cheerful voice Sharon showed her picture books to the Sister in charge. And in no time at all, she was telling her about the story of Red Riding Hood and the story of Santa and his reindeer.

"Bright as a new penny," this youngster will tell you how "big her little sister is." Linda Lee, her sister, is not a two-month old infant any longer. She's quite a big baby now—all of ten months—and 24 pounds. It's hard for Sharon to realize it's the same baby sister she knew last April. Her brother, Russell Leroy is seven years old.

Special permission has been granted Sharon to see her brother and sister on Christmas day. Since her accident she has only seen them once.

Scanning her picture books and listening to the radio are her favorite pastimes. She chuckles at Arthur Godfrey, and she loves the Beulah programs.

Looking at Sharon, one can detect the determination and spirit the youngster has. Of course she has her good and bad days. But generally she's a cheerful, cooperative patient.

To date she has had 14 blood transfusions; many dressings, and two skin grafts; together with lots of nursing care and affection from the Sisters of St. Francis and the nurses.

Santa Claus Will Visit Children In Jameson Hospital

Christmas Stockings Filled With Toys And Goodies To Be Given Children

Christmas can be a pretty dismal event when you're a member of the younger set and confined to a hospital bed for Christmas instead of being at home in familiar surroundings awaiting Santa's descent down the chimney.

Proving that Santa can also wiggle his way down hospital chimneys, every child who has to spend Christmas in the Jameson Memorial hospital will have a Christmas stocking filled with toys and goodies placed at the foot of his bed on Christmas morning. Treats have been arranged for the young patients through the kindness of the Hostess Shop which is sponsored by the Junior Guild of the Jameson Memorial hospital and is managed by Mrs. Glenn Throp.

Mrs. N. N. Jaquish and Mrs. Curtis Walker are in charge of Christmas plans for the hospital. In addition to the stocking full of surprises which Santa Claus will leave for each child, a small gift placed on his tray will delight the child on Christmas morning. Another entertaining holiday activity planned for the children by the Guild members is the showing of children's movies by a husband of one of the Guild members.

Kiwanians Hear Dr. Blackwood

Wurttemberg Pastor Reminds Club Members Of Significance Of Christmas

Dr. James Blackwood, pastor of the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church, brought a forceful Christmas message to members of the New Castle Kiwanis Club, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club in The Castleton, Wednesday noon.

Dr. Blackwood recalled the many things for which folks remember Christmas, many of which are of a material nature, and stated that many folks will forget the true significance of the day. Perhaps, he stated, it is somewhat the character of the times.

He urged that we pause and remember the one who was born at Christmas time, and in whose honor the day is celebrated. At his birth, the angel appeared to the shepherds, with the admonition "Fear Not."

Fear was rampant in those days, and the times were just as trying, if not more so than today. The message of the angel can be just as applicable today. It is the message of him who was born on that occasion over 1900 years ago.

God's people will take that message to heart and will persist until there is peace on earth and good will toward all men. You can talk all you want to about Christmas, he stated in conclusion, but it will not be Christmas without the one who made Christmas possible.

He urged his hearers to take the gospel message found in John 3:16 as their text, and to embrace the teachings of Christ. This verse, he stated is the heart of the Bible, and the heart of Christmas.

Club members are planning to go to Beaver Falls next Thursday evening, for installation of the officers in the district clubs.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Five all-time records have been chalked up by the 1950 Pennsylvania Farm Show already—two weeks before the giant agricultural exposition is scheduled to get underway at Harrisburg.

Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst listed the following pre-show records: 389 commercial exhibitors, a total of $53,719 in premium money, 9,721 cash awards offered by the Farm Show Commission, largest live-stock showing with 1,687 head of horses, beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep and 555 head of dairy cattle representing the six leading breeds raised in Pennsylvania.

The Farm Show, the largest mid-winter exposition under one roof, will start January 9 through 13 at the State Farm Show buildings.

YWCA Branch Gets Movie Projector

Many Activities Planned For Beginning Of New Year By Board Of Directors, Members

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the YWCA Tuesday evening, Mrs. Ethel Rentz Ferver presented a check to the YW for the purchase of a movie projector.

Mrs. Ferver made her generous contribution when she read that the YWCA has not been able to take advantage of many opportunities offered in this day of visual education because it did not have a projector.

Mrs. George D. Morris opened the meeting with a worship service reading "The Legend of the Dark Madonna" by Mary T. Applegarth. Near the close of the reading, Mrs. Carlee Thompson and her five weeks old son, in pantomime were the Madonna and her child. Clothed in white material against a dark background, it made an impressive picture, as Mrs. Morris expressed the vital thought: God is a spirit without age, without race, that the God we worship is a God of love.

Mrs. G. G. Horchler reports that the World Fellowship fund goal of $325 has been passed, and now is $374. She thanked all contributors.

Mrs. George D. Morris told of the next meeting, to be a smorgasbord supper with Mrs. Paul F. Butz and Mrs. A. B. Foster in charge.

Reports were heard from club activities in Business Girls club and International Institute department clubs. Y-Teen clubs have been enjoying holiday parties.

Mrs. Raymond J. Williams, chairman of the committee of management, stated that a general expense budget fund has reached $70. The nominating committee with Mrs. C. M. England in charge has the ballots ready for mailing to members on January 7. Last year there were 224 members who marked their ballots of an eligible 1,820. It is important issue to vote in the YW and members are urged to do so.

Polls on this election day, January 17, are to be closed at 2 p. m. This is to facilitate the board's counting the ballots. All ballots must be in at that time.

Mrs. Frank L. Burton, corresponding secretary, will write letters of appreciation to people who have aided the YW. A special board meeting on January 24 will be for the election of officers.

Duke Of Windsor Feeling Effects Of Devaluation

CHERBOURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—The Duke of Windsor, most famous playboy in the world when he was Prince of Wales, today rolled up his sleeves to work his way out of financial difficulties caused by Britain's currency devaluation.

The former King Edward VIII, before boarding the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth for a trip to New York, said he "will write without stopping three articles of his memoirs." He added:

"Everyone ought to work today devaluation hits everyone."

The duke also disclosed that he has given up his villa on the French Riviera because of the British currency devaluation.

(Both the Paris Figaro and the London Daily Mail quoted the duke as saying that "it is not entirely impossible that the duchess will take some sort of position" in Europe.)

King Abdullah Will Make Trip To Jerusalem

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 22.—(INS)—Advice received at the United Nations today from the Holy Land reported that King Abdullah has made known his intention of personally journeying to Bethlehem for Christmas ceremonies.

The U. N. report adds that Abdullah's attendance will mark the presence of a king in Bethlehem for the traditional pageant for the first time since the Crusades. It is the only known instance of a Moslem monarch attending the Christmas rites.

U. N. observers returning from the Holy Land described the atmosphere in Jerusalem on the eve of Christmas as strained. The Hashemite kingdom of Jordan and Israel relaxed restrictions on Christmas travel between the Holy City and Bethlehem only for U. N. personnel and the consular corps.

Polish Students Given Extension For Stay In U.S.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Ten Polish students at Alliance college in Cambridge Springs, Pa., today had a gift from the "man with the whiskers."

But their benefactor was not "Old Kris Kringle"—it was "Uncle Sam."

Allegheny County Judge Blair F. Gunther, who is president of the Polish National Alliance, announced that the students, whose study visas expired today, have been granted indefinite extensions by the U. S. Immigration Service.

The students, all Polish refugees, arrived in this country a year ago. They had petitioned the Immigration Service to be permitted to remain in the United States at least until they finished their studies.

BIDS ARE TAKEN ON CONCESSIONS AT PYMATUNING

Hogue, Meadville, $2,000, boat livery at Espyville section; Michael Droske, North Braddock, $1,000, boat livery concession at Linesville section and Catherine Heitzman, Jamestown, $210, food and novelty concession, Jamestown section.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Mrs. Agnes Nelson, an attractive 24-year-old Chicago woman, won a divorce because her husband forgot their first wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Nelson claimed yesterday before Judge Joseph Sabath that her husband, Chris, 27, not only forgot an anniversary gift, but even forgot to return home.

She said he hasn't shown up yet. The anniversary was last June 16.

Officials Predict Near High Pig Crop

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—The Agriculture department forecasts a 1950 spring pig crop of 62,500,000 head—the second largest output for this time of year in history.

Simultaneously, the department issued final figures placing the 1949 fall pig crop at 37,262,000 head. This is the second highest fall production on record.

The fall crop gives the nation a total hog production of 96,301,000 head—exceeded only in the war years of 1942 and 1943.

The spring crop will be marketed next fall and the fall crop will be sold next spring.

The 1950 spring crop estimate compares with 59,039,000 head produced in 1949, and an average output of 54,293,000 between 1938-47.

"Busy Line," And Home Is Burned

ALBUQUERQUE, Dec. 22.—(INS)—A busy telephone line today was blamed for the failure of a nearby Hopewell Township couple and a 77-year-old invalid woman to get aid when a fire apparently caused by an overheated furnace left the trio homeless.

Samuel Brewer said he tried to call the Albuquerque and Hopewell fire departments for 25 minutes before he could get a "clear" signal. Neighbors who also tried to call said apparently someone on a party line must have left the telephone off the hook.

Damage to the house was estimated at $10,000.

Wampum Constable Issues Dog Warning

Constable Ralph Ferrucci of Wampum borough today issued a warning that all unleashed dogs caught running at large will be shot. He also stated that all dogs having licenses will be impounded until their owners are located.

School Singers At Highland UP

Franklin-Thaddeus Stevens Chorus Presents 'The First Christmas' Wednesday Night

What can be done with the elementary school and junior high school voices was demonstrated in the Highland U. P. church Wednesday night. The combined chorus of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school and Thaddeus Stevens elementary school, some 175 voices presented "The First Christmas."

The huge chorus had been taught a number of lovely Christmas carols which were interspersed by colored slides with Miss Eleanor Barnes as the reader.

Miss Esther Gibbons, director of vocal music for Franklin, has done wonders with the juvenile chorus. The exactness of each number would have done credit to an adult chorus.

The attention of each young singer was glued upon the director and the result was a delightful presentation of Christmas music. Miss Gibbons' sister, Mrs. Emma Richards, director of vocal music at Thaddeus Stevens, was at the piano.

Following the music, Rev. Jennings Reid, pastor of Highland church, thanked the chorus and Santa Claus appeared for the distribution of Christmas treats.

Statistics show that from two to five per cent of the male population is color blind.

Morning Sing In Bessemer Church

Annual Julotta service of the Bessemer Mission Covenant church will take place in the church Sunday morning at 8 o'clock and not on the Bessemer square as previously announced. The service will be directed by Rev. Jerome Ahlstedt, pastor.

Social Security Office Has Party

Spaghetti Dinner, Gift Exchange Featured At Annual Holiday Party Of Season

Employees of the Social Security office held their annual Christmas party and supper, Wednesday evening, in their offices in the Frew building.

The delicious spaghetti dinner was enjoyed at 7 o'clock. This was followed by a gift exchange and informal program. Gifts were piled under the gaily decorated office Christmas tree.

A program of games and contests followed the meal and exchange. Various committees were in charge of last evening's affair, for their work in making the party a grand success.

There is a current rage in London for the zither, a musical instrument at least 3,600 years old.

Mahoning Township School Has Program

School At Hillsville Conducts Christmas Program For Parents On Wednesday

Children of the Mahoning township consolidated school held their Christmas program on Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the school auditorium, Hillsville.

A capacity crowd of parents and friends witnessed the presentation, with the auditorium beautifully decorated in the holiday theme. A special feature was a large Santa with his sleigh and reindeer, made by Mrs. William Miller.

Grade one sang several Christmas selections and performed exercises to music. The grade one band was directed by Darlen Craft. "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" was played by the grade two band. Grade two presented a holiday playlet.

The third grade gave a play drill entitled "Around the World With Santa Claus." The entire sixth grade then performed a handkerchief brigade accompanied by Norma Sfara. This was followed by a Christmas style show by the fourth grade.

Grade five sang two Christmas carols, followed by carol singing by the seventh and eighth grades, accompanied by Arlene Robb.

Hospital Students Present Pageant

New Castle Hospital Nursing Students Present 'The Nativity' On Outdoor Stage

In a setting of natural beauty, with the wide open spaces as the stage beneath the starry skies the students of the New Castle Hospital School of Nursing presented to the public the sacred story of the Birth of Christ, the Saviour of the World.

The students in procession with the vested choir in the lead followed by the members of the cast in costumes of various colors sang the traditional hymn "O Come, O Come Emmanuel".

As the narrator, Marilyn Jeanne Wright, preceded each scene with a dramatic interpretation using the exact Biblical Text. Each scene was augmented by the choir's rendition of the much loved Christmas carols including "Silent Night", "Gloria in Excelsis Deo", "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "We Three Kings".

The soloist included Kathryn Snitzer who rendered Schubert's "Ave Maria", Lois Jean Stinebaker, "In Old Judea" by Richard Henry Buck, and Mary Bussey, "O Holy Night" by Adam.

The principals in the cast of the pageant included: Anna Lukas as Mary; Rosetta Rocco, as Joseph; Mary Jane DeGennaro, the Angel Gabriel; Dolores DeCarbo leading the host of angels; Marjorie DeAngel, Mildred Crow and Mary Jane Frenzel as the Three Kings.

The remaining members of the cast, the angels and shepherds, were the members of the junior and senior classes. The members of the pre-clinical class made up the vested choir.

The spectators included the relatives of the students, friends and neighbors, the ambulatory patients who viewed the pageant from the windows of the hospital and the Sisters.

The music was under the direction of Mrs. Francis Colao. Sister Lawrence Mary, director of nurses, was the pageant director.

The pageant was presented on the outdoor stage of the hospital. The cast consisted of students and faculty members. The pageant was a beautiful presentation of the Nativity story.

Alliance Council To Meet In January

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson announced Wednesday that the North Atlantic Alliance Council probably will meet early in January to give its final approval to an integrated defense program.

Acheson devoted most of his weekly news conference to a discussion of the status of the one billion, 300 million dollar program under which the United States will supply arms aid to friendly nations.

The approval of the council must be obtained before President Truman can give his endorsement, which is essential before the bulk of the funds can be made available.

Acheson did not say where the council would meet but it is believed that meeting will be held in Washington.

Schools Present Holiday Operetta

Clen-Moore And Walmo Schools Present Christmas Program At Clen-Moore School

Children of the Clen-Moore and Walmo schools presented a delightful Christmas operetta entitled "The Christmas Surprise" on Wednesday evening in the Clen-Moore school. Theodosia Painter, wrote the book and lyrics, and Lily Strickland wrote the music.

Fifty children of the Walmo school, grades sixth, seventh and eighth, made up the chorus. Fifth grade students of the Walmo school participated in the barn dance scene.

Children of the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the Clen-Moore school had character parts in the operetta. It is the day before Christmas and the scene is the Grand Central station. Displaced persons are waiting for their friends to come for them. All are called for but one little girl. The lady who was to pick her up was delayed, so the child falls asleep behind some luggage. She dreams of fairies dancing, and tin soldiers marching in formation. Leo the Lion and Santa Claus also appear on the scene. She finally awakens to find that the lady has come for her.

Parents and teachers made the costumes for the production. Mrs. Arthur Henson is the dramatic director, while Miss Betty Smith was in charge of the musical direction. Mrs. Joseph Pitzer was pianist for the evening.

Plan White Gift Offering Service

Third U. P. Church Will Mark Christmas Day With Morning And Evening Programs

A beautiful and impressive white gift offering service will feature the Bible school hour, 9:45 o'clock, Sunday morning at the Third U. P. church. A selected representative from each class of the school will bring the offering of his class and present it to the Holy Child in a lovely ritual. Mrs. Plummer D. Gibson, superintendent of the Bible school, will direct.

For the Christmas morning service at 11 o'clock the pastor, Dr. J. Paul Graham, has chosen a most unique sermon presentation. The sermon title is "The Light Shined." This theme will be presented by the use of five differently colored candles, each one illustrating and typifying some phase of Christmas.

The Christmas evening service at 7:45 will be one of song and story. It is titled "The Shepherd's Story." The story is supposed to have been told by one of the shepherds, who watched the sheep on the night of the birth of our Lord, but who did not go to Bethlehem to see the Babe. Woven through this most entrancing story are Christmas carols and songs. The choir under the direction of Elmer Kanagy will sing these songs. Miss Kathryn Newberry will be the organ accompanist.

Charge Thousands Of Jap Prisoners Perished In Russia

TOKYO, Dec. 22.—(INS)—The United States charged today that perhaps as many as 374,041 Japanese war prisoners perished in Russian "slave" camps in the past four years because of Soviet mistreatment and "callous disregard of their welfare."

The accusation was uttered by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's chief diplomatic aide, William J. Sebald, at a tempestuous meeting of the four-power Allied Council for a session from which the Russian delegate stalked after voicing a counter-charge.

God Sends the Messiah

ANGELS HAIL HIM AS PRINCE OF PEACE

Scripture—Isaiah 2:2-4; 9:1-7; 11:1-9; Jeremiah 33:14-18; Luke 2

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

At this time in world history, when people everywhere are troubled about many problems, it is sweet to recall the story of Jesus' birth, when hope was given that peace would eventually come to all people.

It is a story that is old but ever new. Every year we re-read it and gain a feeling of joy and hope that peace may be realized in spite of present conditions of unrest and fear for the future.

The first part of our lesson refers to the prophecies of Isaiah and Jeremiah, which were uttered several hundred years before Christ's coming to earth. Isaiah said:

"The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined."

In the first verse of this chapter of Isaiah, Zebulun, Naphtali and Galilee are mentioned. The northern part of Naphtali was inhabited by a mixed race of Jews and Gentiles of the Phoenician race, which bordered on it. It was contemptuously called, "Galilee of the Gentiles," by southern Jews of purer blood.

However, it was in Galilee that Jesus carried out most of His ministry, and most of His apostles came from Galilee. He was born there.

"For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace."

The predictions for the coming of the Messiah were always that He should come as a child; not as a grown man.

Again Isaiah prophesied: "And there shall come forth a shoot out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch out of his roots shall bear fruit."

"And the Spirit of Jehovah shall rest upon Him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of Jehovah."

"And His delight shall be in the fear of Jehovah; and He shall not judge after the sight of His eyes, neither decide after the hearing of His ears; But with righteousness shall He judge the poor, and decide with equity for the meek of the earth."

Jesus did indeed come "out of Galilee"—in Bethlehem—a descendant of the line of David. He did not judge "after the sight of His eyes, neither decide after the hearing of His ears." In dealing with people Jesus dispensed judgment with understanding of those who were brought for judgment—not as common men judged them. He "judged the poor with equity," which is not always the case in modern courts.

We all know the story of the Holy Birth. Joseph, being of the line of David, was obliged to go to Bethlehem from the town of Nazareth, where he lived, to be taxed, according to a recent decree.

There, because they could find no better place to spend the night, the Babe was born in a manger—or cave—in the court of the inn. Mary wrapped the newly born child in the usual outfit for a Jewish baby—swaddling clothes—and laid Him down to sleep.

And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night over their flock. And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

"And the angel said unto them: Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people; or there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord."

"And this is the sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger."

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, And on earth peace among men in whom He is well pleased."

Even as you and I would have done, the shepherds betook themselves to Bethlehem, found the Child, worshiped, and went away, telling everyone of the wondrous thing they had seen and heard.

And the Babe slept peacefully in His humble bed, and His mother, Mary, doubtless watched Her beautiful Child and pondered on the circumstances of His Birth—and the angels and the shepherds—and kept these things close in her heart—as mothers will.

ODDS AND ENDS

Athletics seem to come higher in Pittsburgh than in New Castle. Pittsburgh Board of Public Education has just awarded contracts totaling $505,237 for the completion of the South High athletic field. The total cost will be over $1,000,000, it is said.

The field will accommodate night football, and standard track events. The field will be used by both South and Fifth Avenue high schools.

The seating capacity will be 8500, which will make it much smaller than Taggart stadium here. And much more expensive.

The post mortem on the recently ended four-year professional football war shows the All-America Conference won the battle for attendance; the National league won the fight for survival.

Executives of both leagues lost their bankrolls.

The AAC had less than a thousand per game average attendance edge over the older pro league during the four-year period from 1946 to 1949. In the last season, however, the National league had the attendance margin in its favor.

That's not all that worked out as Bert Bell's "elders" had planned.

All ten National league clubs remained in existence after peace was signed between the two groups but only three of seven AAC clubs retained their identity.

A local junior high school took the hard way out of a very precarious situation last Tuesday afternoon.

The school's basketball team was slated to play three different teams at the same time on the same day. Authorities at two of the would-be opponent schools were called and notified by the perplexed schedule-maker that other arrangements had been made and that the game contests would have to be postponed.

The game with the third school was played as scheduled. The already troubled quintet was soundly defeated.

The Washington Senators are planning on making a third base out of Reed Maier, Nat shortstop last year. Reed has been advanced to the class B Charlotte club. He impressed local ball fans with his fine arm and apparently has made the same impression on Washington officials. In the event that the Nats cannot land "Shine" Richardson for 1950 catching duty, they hope to get Earl Lettenberger. Lettenberger led the Middle Atlantic League in home runs in 1948 with 26, while with Vandergrift. Mike Gipp will go south with the Chattanooga team in the Southern Association in the spring. Most baseball people think that Mike's hitting is a little light for that fast a league and that he'll probably find his level in B or C ball—for another year or two at least.

Triple-threat halfbacks are almost non-existent in this football age where the emphasis is upon specialization.

Titan Win Streak Broken By Seton Hall 61 To 54

New Jersey Quintet Wins In Second Half

Seton Hall ended it at six straight.

Westminster's Towering Titans suffered their first loss of the 1949-50 campaign last night at South Orange, New Jersey. Nationally famous Seton Hall college did the trick by rallying in the last half to take a 61 to 54 triumph. The Washabaugh crew, winner of six straight, held a 30 to 27 lead at halftime but faltered in the final two quarters.

Sophomore Jerry Abraham, 6-foot substitute from Irwin, Pa., was high scorer for the Blue and White with 12 markers. Hurt of the winners had 22 and Lackaye added 15 more.

St. Francis Next

Titan workhorse and captain, Allen McCullough of Bradford, netted only one field goal and one foul. The off-form play of this talented star must certainly be considered an important factor in the Westminster loss.

The local college quintet bumps into another tough assignment next Thursday night at Duquesne Garden. The undefeated, high-scoring St. Francis of Loretto team will be the opposition.

Winter FG F T Seton Hall FG F T Jones, f 3 3 9 Hurt, f 8 6 22 Wagner, f 4 1 9 Ligos, f 3 0 6 McCough, f 1 3 Putnam, c 4 0 8 King, c 2 8 Lackaye, g 4 7 15 Hyder, g 3 0 6 Latimer, g 3 2 8 Abraham, f 4 12 Hartman, c 0 1 1 Fuhrer, f 1 1 Mills 0 1 1 Halas, f 1 0 2 Shaffer, f 1 0 2

Bisons And Reds Play Tie Game

(By International News Service)

The Buffalo Bisons still held on tightly to their top spot in the American Hockey league's eastern division today, even though they helped themselves out of a chance to boost their lead a full game. Buffalo and the runnerup Providence Reds fought to a 2-2 draw last night, but the Bisons would have won if one of their teammates hadn't accidentally helped Providence to its first goal.

Doug Lewis of the Bisons drove Pete Kapusta's rebound into his own cage during a melee in front of the Bison cage. Except for that first score, Buffalo would be a full game in front of the Reds, instead of only a half game.

Freak Goal
A freak goal also figured in the scoring of the league's only other clash last night. The Pittsburgh Hornets trimmed the western sector's pace setting Cleveland Barons, 2-1, in a wild shot by Church Russell.

Russell, former Baron, drove a wild shot toward the Cleveland cage and the puck hit teammate Bill Benson on the leg and deflected into the cage for the winning goal.

There are no league games scheduled for tonight.

Fans usually regard amateur athletics as mere beginners or gents tossing a pigskin, baseball, or boxing gloves for the fun of it.

Banquet Plans Are Progressing

Alvin "Bo" McMillin Will Speak To WPAL Class AA Champs Here Dec. 28

The committee sponsoring the big testimonial banquet at the Cathedral December 28 for the New Castle High class AA championship football team held an enthusiastic meeting last night at the Eagles club with William Sands, general chairman, in charge.

There are 15 fraternal and other organizations in New Castle taking part in the plans. It was decided last night by the committee to stage a band dance following the banquet for the gridders, their lady friends, and all New Castle High students, free of charge.

McMillin To Speak
Alvin "Bo" McMillin, former All-American at Centre college and coach at Geneva, Indiana and at present the Detroit Lions, will be the speaker of the evening. He will have a fine message for everybody.

The tickets are selling at $2 per plate for the dinner and dance. Tickets can be obtained at the following places: Gus' Men's store, East Washington street; Morella Dairy, East Washington street; B. J. Biondi, Long avenue; the Johnson Bronze, the United Engineering, and Shenango Pottery, or at all fraternal clubs in the city.

Response Not Too Good
So far the response by the public has not been too gratifying, probably owing to the Christmas holidays.

A fine program for the banquet was decided upon last night by the committee members, with the Honorable Judge John Lamoree as the toastmaster.

New Castle has a chance to "whoop" it up for the champions come December 28. The dinner will start at 6 o'clock.

Plan Welcome For Champions
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Leading city officials and a host of fans will be on hand today to welcome the Philadelphia Eagles back from the west coast, where they won the National Football league championship from the Los Angeles Rams.

Mayor Bernard Samuel and Chamber of Commerce President Ralph Kelly will head the welcoming group.

PULASKIS AT JAMESTOWN
The K. Pulaski team will play at Jamestown tonight. All players are to be at the club at 6:30 o'clock to make the trip. This is the final game before the holidays for the "Big Five," Coach Al Gonet stated.

Twelve Teams Ready For YMCA Tourney

Senior teams of the New Castle-Lawrence County have only this evening remaining to sign up to play in the Senior YMCA basketball tournament to be staged next week.

Twelve teams have already paid the entry fee and are ready to compete for a great assortment of prizes and trophies.

Several clubs have signified interest to fill the four berths left on the tourney roster but Y physical director Harold Pears said today that a team is not considered an entrant until the fee is paid and the four spots will remain open in the tournament unless official registration is made tonight.

Entry blanks and roster sheets may be secured at the main desk at the Y.

Decisions Committee Recommends Changes In Basketball Rules

Go On Record As Opposed To New Fourth Period Rules At Meeting

The decisions committee of the WPAL voted to go on record as opposed to the rule changes that have made the timing and officiating in the fourth quarter of a basketball game different from the other three quarters, at a meeting in the Roosevelt hotel in Pittsburgh last night.

The new rule allowing the team to take the ball out of bounds as well as shooting the foul in the last three minutes of play and the rule that stops the clock every time the whistle is blown in the last three minutes were the main objects of the committee's criticism.

The basketball committee recommended the repeal of the rules to the decisions committee, which voted to recommend the change at the next meeting of the state board, which will be held next week.

This recommendation is not for the current basketball season, the committee stated.

Extends Deadline
The decisions committee also voted to extend the deadline from Dec. 1 to Feb. 1 for those schools that have been put into class C to appeal their case if they wish to remain in class B.

Class C is a new classification for WPAL football beginning 1950 and schools with an enrollment of under 520 have been put into it. Under the new classification system schools with between 250 and 500 enrollment are class B, between 500 and 1000 class A, and over 1000 class AA.

None of the Lawrence county class B schools have been affected by the new classification.

Other business at the meeting consisted of handing down decisions on the eligibility of various students.

Sources close to Lou Tullio, coach of Little Gannon college's unbeaten and untied football team, said today Tullio still may be given the head coaching spot at Holy Cross.

Fesler Denies Quitting Yarn

Ohio State Football Team Enters Rose Bowl Drill With Renewed Spirit

WESLEY FESLER

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 22.—(INS)—Ohio State's football team, assured that coach Wes Fesler was not resigning, returned to the practice field today with renewed spirit.

Fesler, obviously perturbed by reports that he had resigned to take a position in business, told newsmen yesterday:

"In a wire to an Ohio paper, which I understand published a story that I already had tendered my resignation, I denied it emphatically.

"I will say this, I have received an offer that is too attractive for me to say I'm not interested. But right now I'm Ohio State's football coach."

On the practice field yesterday the Buckeyes went through their third straight day of bone-crushing scrimmage.

Vandergrift Hi Here Friday

New Castle High Flippers Seek Fourth Win Of Pre-League Card

New Castle High will go after its third straight floor victory Friday night, meeting the Vandergrift team at Washington High court. The prelim at 7 o'clock between the Jayvee teams will start the proceedings.

Victorious in the past two games with Meadville and New Brighton, the Canes should experience little difficulty downing Vandergrift, a team that has lost to Ambridge 57-27, Peabody 46-27, Leechburg 35-29.

New Castle defeated the "Vandies" last year at Vandergrift, and the year before at New Castle. Next Tuesday night New Castle will play host to the strong Ford City team at Washington floor.

East And West Teams Drilling

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—(INS)—East and West Shrine All-Star football squads settled down to heavy practice Wednesday for their December 31 charity game in San Francisco.

The East squad was still incomplete but practice was scheduled at the University of Santa Clara Field south of San Francisco.

Three Notre Dame stars—Leon Hart, giant end; Jim Martin, All-American tackle; and Frank Spaniel, speedy halfback—were scheduled to arrive by nightfall.

Arnold Galiffa, Army's great quarterback, was still among the missing. He will arrive at the end of the week, having been delayed by West Point furlough regulations.

Pro Football War Over, But Headache Lingers On

By LAWTON CARVER (International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The professional football war between the National League and the All-American Conference is over, but has also just begun.

This war is like all wars in that when the shooting is over everybody is scuffling to win the peace. Bert Bell, the National League commissioner, spent so much time and energy bringing the two leagues together that he wound up in a doctor's care. Yet, his troubles have just begun.

Faces Big Job

From a reliable source in Bell's Philadelphia headquarters it is learned that he now is confronted by the job of satisfying the All-America Conference clubs on schedules and other such matters in such a way that they will not feel they are the victims of a National League hangover.

All the holdover National League clubs and those from the All-America already have started the hustle for playing dates, plus ways to raise money, plus other headaches.

Commissioner Bell is being well paid for any headaches he may suffer, but the fact remains that pro football isn't yet quite as stable as it might be.

Greed—or let us say the pursuit of money—has entered into the thing.

Want Equal Rights

The National League insists on the best of playing dates in the best parks. The old circuit's argument is that it was there first. The All-America Conference counters with the argument that by agreeing to end the football war it has a right equal representation with the old circuit.

Out of all this will come another headache for Commissioner Bell. Once again, let's not feel too sorry for him. He is being well paid for any headaches he may absorb.

Monster Created

However, there is a supposition in the air that through consolidation of the two leagues they have created a monster that persists in pulling in several directions at the same time.

This won't work to the good of anybody and if pro football is to continue as a major sport the factions from the All-American Conference must get together with those in the National League.

The interesting thing about all this is that while the two leagues are consolidated, they are still pulling their separate ways.

The January meetings will be interesting in determining whether pro football will be strong or whether it will be fettered by politics and the everlasting search for a payoff.

This might easily decide the future of pro football. It is no good the way it is now.

When he is not playing baseball, Page usually spends his spare time in the fields hunting bear, deer and almost every small game animal and bird.

NL Sets Home Run Record; Cards Worst Base Stealers

By HOWARD SIGMUND
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Heavy slugging and the apparent heavy feet of the once most daring base runners in baseball were two of the highlights of the 1949 National League season.
In the fence-busting department, senior circuit batsmen, led by Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, set a new major league record of 936 home runs.
And official statistics released today made a startling revelation. The St. Louis Cardinals, since the hectic times of the Gas House Gang regarded as basepath dare-devils, stole the fewest bases in the history of the game.
Cards Are Slow
The Cardinals pilfered only 17 bases. Viewed next to Jackie Robinson's individual total of 37, this figure became significant. The Dodger second sacker alone managed to steal twice as many bases as the entire Cardinal team.

Kiner was the league's slugging leader. He had a slugging percentage of .658, led in homers (54), runs-batted-in (127), bases on balls (117), and set a tied a few records in the process.
The Corsair outfielder was the first major leaguer to lead or tie for the home run leadership for four consecutive years.
Four Round-Trippers
Ralph tied a major league mark by belting four homers with the bases loaded and set two N. L. records by hitting more than 50 homers for the second time, and swatting 16-round-trippers in one month.
He also tied a league record by hitting more than 40 homers for the third time.

Duke Snider of Brooklyn became the only member of the champions to win a booby prize. He struck out the most times, 92. Boston's Tommy Holmes wiffed the fewest times, 6.
Slow-footed Sid Gordon, recently dealt to the Braves by speed-minded Leo Durocher of the Giants, grounded into the most double plays, 24.
Handy Andy Pafko of the Cubs was hit by pitchers the most often, nine times.
The Dodgers led in slugging with 419. They had the most hit batters, 33. Boston received the most bases on balls, 684 and grounded into the most double plays, 130. Philadelphia struck out the most, 670, and St. Louis struck out the fewest times, 482.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

DISSATISFACTION has flared up between the Pacific Coast Conference and the Big Ten concerning the Rose Bowl and one little clause is in back of it all, says Grantland Rice in his story "Will The Big Ten Quit The Rose Bowl?" in the current issue of Sport Magazine.
"The trouble lies in the fact that no Big Ten team can play in the Rose Bowl except after a three-year interval," continues Rice in Sport. "This means that the Coast has to send its champion against teams that might finish second or third in the Big Ten Conference."
The flaw of this ruling lies in the fact that the Pacific Coast team would get no credit for beating a second or third place Big Ten team, but Rice states they would be ridiculed if it lost.
As Sport points out, Michigan was the unbeaten champ of the Big Ten last fall and had beaten Northwestern, 28-0, but it was Northwestern which appeared in the Rose Bowl and defeated California, the pride of the Far West.
When the present agreement between the two conference was drawn up in 1946, this controversial clause was included at the insistence of the Big Ten. Today many sportswriters on the coast believe it's time for the Pacific Coast Conference to say that the pact will not be renewed as long as the Big Ten chooses to keep the clause.
Rice concludes his article in Sport: "If the Pacific Coast Conference accepts this arrangement again, it will be full proof that the Coast admits its inferiority as far as the Big Ten is concerned and is willing to take orders from a rival conference."

Mrs. Wilma Mooney is the first woman to have been elected to an office in a sportsman's association here. She was named financial secretary of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association recently. . . . Some fans apparently have forgotten some of the boys who, years ago, aspired for pugilistic honors. A few names recalled are Tony Adams, Custy Marino, George Rocco, Ray Atkinson (who made the supreme sacrifice in WW 2); Frankie Raching, Chuck Arnett, Joe De Mott, Yankee Pagley, Joey Evans, Larry Weaver, et al. . . . Tom Shaffer, of the Lawrence County Coon and Fox Hunters association anticipates a large crowd of fox hunters in the hunt Monday. . . . When Lee Oma called off his proposed "exhibition" with Joe Louis because he alleged "if it is going to be a 'fight', why not 'fight' and draw a big crowd" the Michigan Boxing commission suspended Lee and fined him $500. He didn't fight in Detroit and there is small chance of the commission collecting the $500. Judging from the knockout of Pat Valentino and Al Hoeseman, the Brown Bomber is trying to "fight" himself into condition for a 1950 summer whirl. . . . Ernie Hill, former middleweight, now a vocational school instructor, postcards holiday greetings to fandom. . . . Relative to catches at Pymatuning lake next year the limits are: Muckellunge, not less than 30 inches, 2 a day; Pickerel (Yellow pike), not less than 13 inches, 6 a day; black bass, not less than 10 inches, six a day; walleyes, not less than 13 inches, six a day, all of which are legal from July 1 to November 30. . . . Small and large mouth bass in other inland waters cannot be taken if they are not nine inches in length. Trout, brook, brown and rainbow comes in season April 15 to July 31 and must be six inches in length and a combined creel of 10 is allowed.

Don't Ride 'Bike' Without License

Due to conditions beyond his control Santa Claus has been unable to get licenses to put on bicycles which he will present to children here this Christmas, and the law which is stern prohibits the operation of bicycles without licenses.

They can be had at the police department, upon payment of 50 cents, which will be good until July 1, 1950.

SPORT SHORTS

In any amateur sport—football, baseball, even boxing—fans don't squawk if one team or individual is vastly superior; neither do they protest too loudly at amateur's inaction.

Ever wonder why pro football apparently collapses at the box-office despite the galaxy of stars gracing the rosters of every pay-for-club in the business?

ROCKETING TO FAME - - By Alan Maver

Syracuse Holds Comfortable Lead

(By International News Service)
The Syracuse Nationals are running away with the eastern division in the National Basketball Association—they now lead the second place New York Knickerbockers by 4½ games.

Syracuse won its 21st game in 24 starts last night, routing the Tri-City Blackhawks, 99-84, while New York dropped its second in a row, this time to the St. Louis Bombers, 75-52.

Stags Winners
The Chicago Stags moved into the lead in the central division by thumping Waterloo, 78-70, and Minneapolis managed to hold down the second slot by dunking Washington, 75-61. Chicago holds a narrow ½ game lead on Minneapolis while Rochester is one game away.

Philadelphia tripped Baltimore in the only other NBA game last night. Tonight's action pits Waterloo vs. Anderson, Washington vs. Baltimore, Minneapolis vs. Boston, St. Louis vs. Ft. Wayne, Chicago vs. Indianapolis, and Syracuse at Sheboygan.

Three members of the Lehigh University football team also are members of the Brown and White wrestling squad. They are Tom Dimming, 175 pound guard, Lansdowne, George LeSasso, local end and heavyweight; and Don Berndt, Baldwin, N. Y., guard and heavyweight.

If a team is going to be in the big-time football business it might just as well do it whole hog and not fiddle around as Army does.

Mt. Carmel Society Party At Hillsville

Rev. Fr. Joseph Fabbri Gives Splendid Address On 'Meaning Of Christmas'

A Christmas party was planned and held by the members of the Mt. Carmel Society of St. Lawrence church, recently in the decorated church basement.

President Mrs. Jennie Gallena presided during the brief business meeting, and following Rev. Fr. Joseph Fabbri, pastor gave an inspiring talk on "Meaning Of Christmas". He voiced the great need for peace in the world.

Christmas carols were sung, and later Santa Claus enacted by Pat Sfara distributed the gifts that were placed under the Christmas tree for the exchange. Lovely decorations were used to decorate the tree.

Silent Night was sung by the assembly in closing the program during candlelight.

The committee in charge who is responsible for the evening's success includes: Mrs. Teresa Sara, Mrs. Jennie Micco, Mrs. Margaret DeOtto, Mrs. Rose Gregg and Mrs. Lillian Massucci.

TOO MANY CUSTOMERS

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—A department store manager's dream happened here. So many customers showed up for a sale that the concrete sidewalk sagged.

Soaked goods, damaged when the water main broke near the store, brought such a flood of customers the department store officials closed their front entrance because weakened foundations were giving away.
